

---

David walked to the grocery store. He shopped for dinner. At home, he chopped the vegetables and barbecued the chicken. Marta walked in the door at 6:00.

“How are feeling?” David asked.

“I’m feeling stressed!” Marta answered. “The library closed. I didn’t finish my project. I needed one more hour.”

“Take a deep breath and sit,” David offered. “I have a delicious dinner for you.”

---

David walked to the grocery store. He shopped for dinner. At home, he chopped the vegetables and barbecued the chicken. Marta walked in the door at 6:00.

“How are feeling?” David asked.

“I’m feeling stressed!” Marta answered. “The library closed. I didn’t finish my project. I needed one more hour.”

“Take a deep breath and sit,” David offered. “I have a delicious dinner for you.”

---

David walked to the grocery store. He shopped for dinner. At home, he chopped the vegetables and barbecued the chicken. Marta walked in the door at 6:00.

“How are feeling?” David asked.

“I’m feeling stressed!” Marta answered. “The library closed. I didn’t finish my project. I needed one more hour.”

“Take a deep breath and sit,” David offered. “I have a delicious dinner for you.”

---